Cooperation with the Communities

In 1990, NEC established its "NEC Group Corporate Philosophy" in the belief that "NEC strives through "C&C" to help advance societies worldwide toward a deepened mutual understanding and the fulfillment of human potential". To realize this corporate philosophy, we at NEC strive to promote social contribution activities that consider the benefits and development of all stakeholders, beginning with the local communities, and fulfill our social responsibilities as a "good corporate citizen".

Policy

Working closely together with business, NEC's social contribution activities help to solving the social problems found in these three themes: "Welfare and Diversity", "Environment" and "Education, Culture and Sports". Through community investment and the development of human resources, NEC's objective is to improve brand value and create a business platform that will find not only solutions to social problems with the community but foster community trust as well.

NEC has a further objective to contribute to developing a new business model that is social-problem-driven through joint efforts with its partners (NPOs, NGOs, local governments, universities, etc.) in social contribution activities.

NEC has established basic policies that underlie the creation of our social contribution program so that we can carry out sustainable programs that contribute to society. We have also established the following five criteria to form a relationship with NPOs and NGOs. We will be evaluating the program based on the Social Contribution Program Evaluation System that complies with these criteria.

Promotion Framework

NEC's social contribution activities consist of the following three promotion frameworks:

- Social contribution program: Mainly NEC Corporate Communications Division CSR Promotion and Social Contributions Office & Social Contribution Promotion Departments of NEC Group Companies plan and execute the program.
- "NEC Make-a-Difference Drive (MDD) " - NEC Group employees in the world actively plan and participate.
- Various grants by foundations

Social Contribution Program Assessment System

We assess all social contribution programs each year based on the social contribution program assessment system.

Social Contribution Program Assessment System

1. Improving business: Promotion of activities according to the basic policy.
2. Realization of highly objective and transparent assessment and management.

Assessment axis = Social value + Value for NEC

* Both "Social value" and "Value for NEC" are quantified and assessed for each item.
Assessment criteria: Social value

| Public Interest          | 1. Tracking the needs in the community and society.
|                         | 2. Not limited to a few beneficiaries or participants, but contributes to a wide range of people
|                         | 3. Working together with NPOs, public administrations and universities.
|                         | 4. Obtaining opinions (feedback) from program partners.
| Effectiveness            | 1. Specific goals are made for social issues and results are being achieved.
|                         |   - Output (Result)
|                         |   - Outcome (Effect)
|                         |   - Impact (Spread)
|                         | 2. The approaches are being developed effectively.
|                         |   - Contains ideas and mechanisms to spread its effect.
|                         |   - Contains global elements.

Assessment criteria: Value for NEC

| Strategy                | 1. Continuously improving programs based on PDCA management.
|                        | 2. Utilizing resources (human resources, products, funds, facilities, and information).
|                        | 3. Collaborating with NPOs.
|                        |   - A win-win relationship is established.
|                        |   - Supporting a stronger NPO foundation.
|                        |   - Promoting communications with NPOs.
| Effectiveness          | 1. Contributing to businesses (business creation and sales contribution).
|                        | 2. Contributing to nurturing employee human resources.
|                        | 3. Contributing to improving corporate reputation and building trust from the community and society.
|                        |   - Program participants are greatly satisfied.
|                        |   - The amount of advertisement cost conversion for PR results exceeds investment cost.
|                        |   - Programs are introduced in seminars, forums, symposiums, popular SNS, etc., as case studies.
|                        |   - Awards given by external organizations or programs are evaluated by SRI, etc.

Social Contribution Expenses

In fiscal 2016 the total social contribution expenses for the NEC Group were approximately 430 million yen. We were involved in various regions around the world following three main themes in five areas, including "Academia, Research and Education" and "Arts, Culture and Sports". Social contribution expenses included the following:

1) Financial assistance
2) Charitable donations of products (quoted on a unit price basis)
3) Public use of NEC facilities (converted into monetary amounts based on the unit price of using equivalent external facilities to quantify the cost of using NEC facilities for socially beneficial purposes)
